

Irish Marxist Review | 27

Contents

Editorial: Interesting times again | 04

The Great Rebellion | 07

John Molyneux

C'est la lutte finale? Covid 19 and the crisis of humanity | 12

Mike Davis

Last Exit to Socialism? | 26

Seán Mitchell

Covid 19 and Irish politics | 38

Kieran Allen

Workers, resistance and Covid 19 | 44

Eddie Conlon

Paying for Covid – who says we're in this together? | 50

Brian O'Boyle

The Irish state's pact with private healthcare: time for it to end | 61

Marnie Holborow

Socialist ferment in the US: Sanders and after | 67

Paul Le Blanc

Corbyn's rise and fall and the challenges for the left | 75

Shaun Doherty

Book Reviews | 82

Hilary Mantel's Thomas Cromwell trilogy, reviewed by Mary Smith / Peter

Linebaugh's Red Round Globe Hot Burning reviewed by Paul O'Brien /

Jane McAleevy's A Collective Bargain: Unions, Organizing, and the Fight for

Democracy & Caroline Moorehead's A House in the Mountains, both reviewed by Andrew Keegan.

Our contributors | 86