

Contributors

Michael Taft is Research Officer with UNITE the Union and is author of Notes on the Front, a blog on political economy <http://notesonthefront.typepad.com/>. He writes in his personal capacity.

Kieran Allen is a Senior Lecturer in Sociology at UCD and author of numerous books including The Politics of James Connolly, Ireland's Economic Crash and Marx and the Alternative to Capitalism.

John Molyneux is editor of Irish Marxist Review and author of a number of books including The Point is to Change It! An Introduction to Marxist Philosophy and The Case for Socialism in Ireland, with a blog <http://johnmolyneux.blogspot.ie/>.

Raymond Deane is a leading composer of classical music and a socialist political activist, particularly with the Irish-Palestine Solidarity Campaign. He has a blog, The Deanery, at <http://raymondmdeane.blogspot.ie/>.

Seán Moraghan is a folklore researcher, writer and local historian. He works with the Cork Folklore Project.

Colm Stephens is a physicist and School Administrator in the School of Physics , Trinity College .When active in research he carried out his experimental work at particle accelerators designed not for nuclear research but to produce intense beams of photons for probing materials. One of his current interests is physics outreach to younger people including a simulation of proton-proton collisions that produce a Higgs boson using a half-dozen fresh eggs!

Stewart Smyth lectures at Queen's University Management School, Belfast. He writes on the neoliberalisation of public services, including housing and grass-roots tenants' campaigns.

Peadar O'Grady is a Consultant Child Psychiatrist with the HSE and actively engaged with Doctors for Choice Ireland.